Hunt For More Blast Victims In Los Angeles

Death Toll In Explosion May Reach 30 Is Estimate Of Rescue Workers

NEARLY 400 PERSONS BELIEVED INJURED (BULLETIN)

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 21.—(INS)—Rescue squads dug in tangled debris today in search of additional possible victims after a mighty explosion of perchloric acid killed at least 15 persons, seriously injured 158 and devastated a square block of downtown Los Angeles.

At least one person was missing in the debris and it is believed others, possibly as many as 30, also may have perished.

Revised Casualty Estimates

Revised casualty figures placed the number injured at approximately 1,000, most of them slightly cut by flying glass and debris. Between 300 and 700 persons were homeless, and the Red Cross provided mobile kitchen units to feed them.

City officials estimated the property damage at from $1,500,000 to $2,000,000.

The blast shook the west's largest city and was heard 40 miles away.

Not until late last night—some 12 hours after the blast that some witnesses described as like an atom bomb explosion—did investigators identify the cause.

John J. O'Connor, owner of the O'Connor Electro-Plating company where the blast occurred, announced it had been traced to a highly-potent substance called perchloric acid.

This is a chemical used in a secret process for plating aluminum.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Yesterday's heavy snow was just one day later than a similar heavy fall which occurred a year ago in February. Two and a half inches fell on that occasion, as rain turned to snow.

Saturday is George Washington's birthday anniversary and as such will be observed as a holiday in some institutions in New Castle and Lawrence county.

New Castle and Lawrence county evidently escaped the fury of the snow storm that swept the eastern area of the nation during the night. Several inches of snow fell here in comparison with reports of a foot or more generally in the storm area.

Twenty-one cardinals and four blue jays were among the feathered friends who breakfast daily at the feeding station of Mrs. George A. Carpenter, 107 Sheridan avenue, seen this morning, not to mention the nut-hatches, downy-woodpeckers and smaller birds. A feeding station has been erected on an elm tree near the rear porch, where sunflower seeds, suet and bread are available food during the cold season. This made a beautiful scene this morning with the colorful birds in the pure snow.

With the Court House closed on Saturday, Washington's Birthday, one Pa Newc is reminded of Saturday, February 22, some years ago, when he and his bride-to-be sought a license at the Pittsburgh Court House. They were told by a genial young man in the building that there was no business being done there that day. Hearing the word, the groom had travelled from New Castle to get married, the prothonotary's keys were found, and the license granted, probably the only one for that day.

With smoke still shrouding the scene of the terrific explosion which wrecked the downtown Los Angeles plant of the O'Connor Electro-Plating company, firemen and civilian volunteers search the wreckage in hope of rescuing more of the injured trapped in the site of the explosion which also destroyed homes and other structures in the immediate area causing a death toll of probably 30 and injuring more than 300 persons. Senate Approval For Four And Half Million Budget Cut Is Seen

By ARTHUR F. HERMANN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—The Senate headed toward approval today of a four billion 500 million dollar budget cut despite overwhelming House adoption of a six billion dollar reduction.

The House voted 239 to 159 along virtually straight party lines to approve the higher figure after five hours of debate on whether the money cuts would impair national defense.

House Minority Leader Rayburn of Texas and other Democrats took the floor repeatedly to plead against any reductions in the armed services which they said would "handicap" Secretary of State Marshall in the forthcoming diplomatic parleys in Moscow.

Remove Extravagance

Republican leaders responded that the contemplated reductions would remove "waste and extravagance" in government and actually would increase the efficiency of the armed services establishments.

In the Senate, however, leading Republicans including Taft of Ohio,

Eastern Area Of U.S. Battles Snow Hazards

Heaviest Snowfall Of Winter Covers Eastern Seaboard Area Today

FOOT AND HALF OF SNOW REPORTED

(By International News Service)

The heaviest snowfall of the winter buried the eastern seaboard today and the wind-whipped snow was still falling.

Air traffic to many eastern airports, including LaGuardia field, New York, was stilled. Trains were running late and commuters were tardy in reaching their jobs.

Highway conditions were hazardous and hundreds of motorists were forced to abandon their cars in heavy drifts.

In New York City more than 11 inches of snow had fallen by 9:30 a.m. EST and before the storm ends 13 inches of snow are expected.

Porter Johnson of Boston, owner of the 109-foot vessel, described the storm as "worse than the 1938 hurricane." He said he had run into it at the rim of the Gulf Stream early Monday, less than 12 hours after he and a party of friends had sailed from Newport, R. I.

The damaged vessel—the two-masted "Gee Gee"—will continue to the Bahamas after repairs.

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Feb. 21.—(INS)—A storm-battered schooner in Bermuda today gave mute evidence to the violence of a Gulf Stream storm it encountered early this week.

Porter Johnson of Boston, owner of the 109-foot vessel, described the storm as "worse than the 1938 hurricane." He said he had run into it at the rim of the Gulf Stream early Monday, less than 12 hours after he and a party of friends had sailed from Newport, R. I.

The damaged vessel—the two-masted "Gee Gee"—will continue to the Bahamas after repairs.

The fall reached 14 inches in the suburbs. Piled by high winds, the snow drifted as high as six feet in many sections of the metropolitan area.

The weather bureau said the snow would stop later today. Six deaths were reported along the eastern seaboard.

All schools were closed in Newark and in smaller communities in New Jersey.

Washington, D. C., described the snow as a "two-thirds" blizzard. Government workers were allowed to go home early yesterday when the snow started. It continued all night and eight inches of snow halted most street car and auto traffic with the wind blowing 25 miles an hour.

Heaviest Snow Of Winter Noted

New Castle, With Three And A Half Inch Fall, Escapes Worst Of Storm

OTHER SECTIONS ARE HARDER HIT

Lawrence county residents today dug themselves out from the heaviest fall of snow of the winter, three and a half inches of the beautiful covering the landscape here, but the fall was lighter than in surrounding areas, according to reports.

The downfall started about noon yesterday, and was fine and powdery here, whereas larger flakes fell in the area north and south of the city.

There was no wind accompanying the storm and roads here were not drifted. City and state highway department crews were able to keep the situation well in hand as a result, but tough going was reported in surrounding counties.

While additional snow was falling this morning, it is not believed that a repetition of yesterday's storm will result. The bulk of the snow which was noted here, fell between noon and midnight.

Ashing crews were on the job as soon as the highways began to be cleared, and motorists had little trouble getting about on the main thoroughfares.

Arthur Mometer

So he left the bus in front of the house, out where the wind blows free, out where the snow had a wide open chance, out where the neighbors could see. He didn't think it would snow again and he knew that it wouldn't freeze, so the weatherman crossed my neighbor up, as pleasantly as you please. So he yelled for help and he yelled out loud, but then 'twas a little late, the garage man came and towed him away, and the weather is twentynine.

He spoke freely to a gathering of newsmen.

Decision On India By Government Shock To Britons

Political Factions In Nation Divided Sharply Over India Self-Rule Plan

SOME FEAR CIVIL WAR MAY DEVELOP

By CHARLES A. SMITH

LONDON, Feb. 21.—Political factions in Britain divided sharply today over the government decision to grant India self-rule by June of 1948, and conservative party members predicted possible outbreak of civil war in India.

Britons generally were shocked by both the policy announcement and the recall of Viscount Wavell who will be replaced as viceroy by Admiral Viscount Mountbatten.

Surprise Expressed

Considerable surprise was expressed over lack of detailed explanations of the actions which are expected to lead to one of the greatest storms in parliamentary history when India is debated in the House of Lords next Tuesday and in the House of Commons the following week.

Laborite members of parliament stood by the government of Prime Minister Clement R. Attlee. They

Snow Ranges From Several Inches To Several Feet In Some Areas

SNOWFALL WILL END THIS AFTERNOON

(By International News Service)

The Keystone state struggled today to dig out of a blanket of snow which paralyzed transport, closed schools and caused death and injury on clogged and icy highways.

Falls ranging from six inches to several feet were reported in all parts of the state beginning early yesterday afternoon.

The Weather Bureau said the snow would end in most places this afternoon but that lower temperatures would follow the clearing skies.

A total of 11 inches was forecast for Philadelphia, where classes were cancelled today for 334,000 public and parochial school children. Other parts of the state reported similar action.

Adamo Didomenico, 59, State Highway department worker of Devon, was killed by a car while shoveling cinders under the wheels of a stalled automobile at Bryn Mawr.

Paul H. Kreider, 24, of Lancaster, suffered fatal injuries when he was crushed between a truck and a loading platform at a Lancaster candy plant during the height of the storm.

New Blizzards Sweep Britain

Hopes For Early Restoration Of Domestic Power Cuts Are Dimmed

CURTAILMENT MAY LAST UNTIL APRIL

LONDON, Feb. 21.—(INS)—Renewed blizzards which swept across the British Isles today dimmed hopes for early restoration of domestic power cuts.

The fresh onslaughts of an unprecedented winter again hampered distribution of coal supplies. This factor threatened also to delay for several days projected switch-on of power to industrial plants outside the midlands.

A midlands switch-on of 30 percent of normal power is to go into effect on Monday.

Reliable sources indicated following a night meeting of the special government coal committee that power cuts in power may have to be maintained until only slight improvement with April at least.

Labor Hearings Show Democracy At Work

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Under the crystal chandeliers and the florid marble of the caucus room in the Senate office building the labor hearings go on. For those with the patience to follow them from day to day, it is an instructive course in the whys and wherefores of democracy at this late stage in American history.

Opinions on the Senate labor committee obviously range from A to Z. That is to say, from the point of view of those who would chop the unions into little pieces to the point of view of at least one committee member who would probably prefer no legislation at all at this point.

By good fortune, a new member of the Senate is also a member of this committee. Senator Irving M. Ives has spent much of his time as a legislator and educator in New York state studying the problems of organized labor and organized industry. He initiated the New York state school of industrial and labor relations, which is a hopeful portent in a time of clashing emotions.

That is why Ives's approach in these Senate hearings deserves respectful consideration. By his questions he has been trying to find out what area of agreement exists among those who are immediately and vitally interested in this debate. Behind his approach is a recognition of the fact that the public expects some action from Congress. That was one thing the voters were voting for last November 5.

Wants Minimum of Restraint

Ives wants a minimum of government restraint. He knows very well that peace in industry depends, in the last analysis, on good relations between worker and employer, rather than on law. But he knows that a minimum of legislation—such as an amendment of the Wagner act giving employers certain rights—is essential.

In this is the inherent weakness of the labor leaders as they come before the committee. They cannot agree to a minimum program. And their emotional arguments against "regimentation" and governmental interference sound strangely like the arguments that big business has used on occasion in the past.

Hearing these arguments, you realize how very late the hour is for organized labor. The leaders of labor have ignored the storm warnings of recent years.

Philip Murray of the C. I. O. was asked what he thought about jurisdictional strikes and about legislation to prevent them. His answer was that, if the committee would recall William Green of the A. F. L., then he and Green would sit down together and work out an agreement to ban jurisdictional strikes. That would do it, in Murray's opinion.

Urgent Reasons to Try

Six years ago, three years ago, even two years ago, such a move might have been enough. An agreement between the fiercely competing wings of organized labor might have prevented some of the worst abuses.

The nancies, the injustices and the irritations—although whether it would have prevented the jurisdictional fights between unions within the A. F. L. and unions within the C. I. O. is a question.

Now, in response to an invitation from the A. F. L., the leaders of the two rival organizations are about to sit down together to try to find common ground. They may succeed. Certainly they have the most urgent reasons for trying.

In a statement which he never had a chance to read before the committee, Murray presented facts and figures on the monopoly concentration of productive wealth in this country. It was a brilliant presentation, showing how more and more wealth has been concentrated in fewer and fewer hands.

What Murray did not talk about naturally, was the pattern of ever-increasing monopoly control over trade unions. If big steel dominates the steel industry, then on the other side of the industrial fence, John L. Lewis certainly dominates the workers in coal and he has shown that, through them, he can exercise a veto over the industry itself.

Murray, if he had had the frankness to talk about monopoly on the union side, might have pointed out that the monopoly of labor followed belatedly the monopolization in the control of industry. The signs on that road point to statism. And it is state control that every one professes to want to avoid, including the members of the Senate committee who have taken on this tough assignment.

The only persons who want full spending regardless of economic consequences are the left-wingers, who would like to see our entire system of economy changed, plus those bureaucratic directors who know that the more employees they have the higher their own salaries will be under the government classification.

It is the duty of Congress to pare the budget as much as possible without interfering with essential government service. And in the present instance that means a lot of paring.

The National Budget

President Truman presented to Congress a tentative budget of 37½ billion dollars. Everyone, excepting the rabid left-wingers, believes that the budget could be trimmed without injuring government service. In fact, budget-trimming is essential to our economic welfare at this time.

When the various departments present their estimates of appropriation which they say they ought to have for the next year, the figures are always padded because they expect cuts to be made. The padding perhaps was greater than ever this year because a new economy-minded Congress had been elected.

Some people seem to have the idea that when the presidential budget is submitted it presents to Congress the minimum requirements for the next year. This is inaccurate.

The only persons who want full spending regardless of economic consequences are the left-wingers, who would like to see our entire system of economy changed, plus those bureaucratic directors who know that the more employees they have the higher their own salaries will be under the government classification.

It is the duty of Congress to pare the budget as much as possible without interfering with essential government service. And in the present instance that means a lot of paring.

Ears Are Few

The State department has begun beaming its Voice of America radio program to Russia. The program, twenty-fifth in the foreign language series, is relayed through powerful short-wave transmitters at Munich. It includes news, news analysis, American music and features.

The effectiveness of the programs beamed to Russia is problematic, principally because it is estimated that Russia has only 500,000 radio sets capable of receiving them. But the effort is probably worth while if only as a means of combating propaganda with truth and even if the results are not determinable.

Victoria Land Being Explored

Byrd Expedition Members
Probing Mysteries Of Area In Antarctic

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Representing the Combined American Press
Distributed by International News Service

ABOARD U. S. S. MT. OLYMPUS, Feb. 20. (Delayed) — Clear skies at Little America gave hope today for another strike by exploratory planes into the mysteries of Victoria Island, the next area on the list.

The icebreaker Burton Island, temporary flagship of Rear Adm. Richard H. Cruzen is standing by in McMurdo Sound on the western shores of the Ross Sea ready to act as a weather representing station for ski planes.

Cruzen said he might start tonight or early tomorrow for Little America to be prepared for immediate evacuation of the base when weather and ice conditions demanded. The temperature at Little America is 16 degrees above zero.

Mountains and green ice-filmed lakes were photographed in the Victoria Land area on the last flight from Little America on Monday. That flight was piloted by Lt. (jg) Erwin Spencer of Dearborn, Mich., who flew over the Queen Alexandra mountains at a point northwest of Beardmore glacier and then turned northward. Flying between the mountains lining the frozen sea coast of the Ross Sea and the high inland plateau.

In the valleys between the mountains crews sighted frozen lakes of deep green color, possibly caused by algae. The flight was then continued over Mt. Erebus, an intermittent volcano.

Steel Executive
Gives Reasons For Freight Car Pinch

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 21.—(INS)—Vice President E. G. Plowman of the U. S. Steel Corp. today blamed a lack of replacements during war years and the rundown condition of existing cars for the nation's freight car shortage.

Plowman, who heads the steel corporation's vast traffic system, suggested a four-point program to avert a rail transportation breakdown to members of the Traffic and Transportation Association in Pittsburgh last night.

He suggested that cars be loaded to approximate war-time levels, to apply Interstate Commerce commission orders penalizing misuse of cars, continue to improve the present car distribution system developed during War War II, and step up voluntary cooperation of shippers.

He added:

"Government, railroads and shippers all have tasks to do if a car shortage is to be averted this summer and fall. If representatives of these groups accept their responsibilities, there is every reason to believe that the shortage can be overcome."

LASSIES LIKE LASSES

We like our girls to be healthy and pretty. Their diet is pretty important. If they eat too much they get too fat. If they do not eat enough they get too thin.

They need plenty of protein and vitamins and minerals. Iron is necessary to keep girls healthy.

Molasses provides lots of iron. It helps to make ginger bread, ginger cookies and other good things. Molasses candy is good for girls. It keeps their eyes bright and their hair shiny.

Iron helps to keep the lips red and the cheeks pink. It is better to get the color from the food than from the lip stick.

Maybe plenty of good food and a good lip stick make a pretty good combination.

Further Plans To Build Atom Center South Of Chicago

CHICAGO, Feb. 21.—(INS)—Officials of Argonne National laboratory proceeded today with plans for a 3,645-acre atomic research center in DuPage county, Ill., 26 miles southwest of Chicago.

Plans for the laboratory were announced last night by Dr. Farrington Daniels, chairman of the Argonne Board of Governors.

Daniels said 450 acres in the approximate center of the area would be occupied immediately.

Acquisition of the remainder of the land will proceed as rapidly as possible.

Dr. Walter H. Zinn, Argonne director, told newsmen acquisition of the site "will ensure the atomic energy commission and the people of the United States a strong center in the midwest for the development of atomic energy."

Zinn said the 70 to 80 new buildings and equipment would cost an undetermined sum "in the millions of dollars."

Present facilities of the Argonne National laboratory are housed in part of four buildings on the University campus, the Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago and the Palos area of the Cook County Forest Reserve.

Paralysis Victim To Visit Filmland As Guest Of Stars

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 21.—(INS)—Fourteen-year-old Eunice Kinzer of suburban Glenshaw is going to Hollywood soon as a guest of Lou Costello, the comic, and she'll do her own walking while there, too.

Eunice is "back on her feet" after nine years during which a paralytic condition prevented her from walking. She credits her victory in the long, hard fight to encouragement she received from Costello and from Victor Mature, the actor, who visited her in hospitals.

They gave her "chin up" talks while she was convalescing from operations which physicians hoped might make her walk.

She exercised every muscle she could. She kept up her school work under tutelage of a visiting teacher.

A few days ago she walked down the aisle of a church as a junior bridesmaid. True, Eunice leaned on the arm of an usher during the wedding march, but she stood alone at the altar.

Now her powers of locomotion are returning rapidly and she's looking forward to that Hollywood trip.

Red Cross Drive Leaders Convene

Ward, Precinct Leaders Receive Instructions At Luncheon Meeting Thursday

Ward and precinct chairmen who will supervise the house-to-house residential canvass during the Red Cross drive for funds, received their instructions and fine inspirational talks Thursday afternoon at a luncheon meeting in The Castleton hotel.

The meeting was in charge of Mrs. Ray Carters, chairwoman of the residential group, who spoke briefly to the women and imparted valuable tips to aid in making their effort a success.

Chairman Talks

This year's chairman, S. Glenn McCracken, delivered remarks to the group, stressing the importance of the campaign this year and urging all the workers to strive to meet the goal of $25,000 set for Lawrence county.

Mr. McCracken explained that $2,500 of this total will be the quota for the house-to-house coverage, while Ellwood City will attempt to reach a goal of $5,000.

The drive, which will get underway March 1, is scheduled to last only 20 days, the chairman stated, and in the face of these plans he reminded the leaders that they must work closely as a team to meet the county's quota in such a short time.

Others Give Talks

Other speakers at the meeting included Mrs. John Elliott, Mrs. Elizabeth Gillespie, Mrs. Blake Waldo, Mrs. Louise McConnell, supervisor of Home Service work, and Austin A. Webb, vice-chairman of the drive.

The speakers explained the many aims and workings of the Red Cross and cited the need for funds to further their work in the county.

Movies, shown by Clarence England of the Pennsylvania Power company, concluded the meeting.

Need Shovelers At Skating Pond

Appeal Is Made For Volunteers To Clean Snow From Mahoning Pond

Lieutenant Cecil Suber, chairman of the Mayor's Recreation committee, today made a direct appeal to the civic clubs of this city and the Boosters Club, to provide manpower in shoveling off six inches of snow at the city's skating rink on Mahoning avenue.

The city's skating rink covers around 350,000 square feet and the ice is 8 to 10 inches thick. Suber attempted to have the snow removed with a bulldozer but the ice would not hold the machine, or any other light machinery, such as plows.

It will take between 400 and 500 men with shovels to clean off the pond for skating. The kids can enjoy a fine week end of skating if the snow is removed.

It is costing the city recreation board money for a veteran to act as watchman at the rink. Suber is doing his work gratis. The rink is not good with six inches of snow on it. Suber has threatened to close up the project if necessary to provide safety, unless the snow is taken off.

The men are asked to gather at the rink at 6:30 to 7 o'clock and the floodlights will be turned on. It will not take long to clear off the pond if enough willing workers show up with their snow shovels.

E. & A. Division Of Pennsy Feels Freight Car Lack

Officials of the Erie & Ashtabula division of the Pennsylvania railroad declared today that the shortage of freight cars, now a major problem facing U. S. industry, is also making itself felt locally.

With manufacture of cars curtailed during the war and for some time previous, what flow of cars now coming from plants is wholly inadequate to meet the needs of the system.

The shortage includes all types of rolling stock, open cars, gondolas and hoppers. Since the E. & A. division is one of the busiest in regards to freight shipments, the lack is becoming more acute daily, it was disclosed.

Grandma's Recipe Solves Her Soap Shortage Problem

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 21.—(INS)—One Pittsburgh mother dug up one of her grandma's favorite recipes, so now she's without a soap problem.

Philosophical Mrs. Joseph Fleckenstein believes in the new saying, "Where there's life, there's soap," and says following grandma's example is fun. What's more it is thrifty and her results are worth cheering about.

This practical housewife, who used to pride herself on her recipes for angel food cake and biscuits now has the neighbors besieging her for "the way to make soap."

The recipe is this:

Ingredients: six pounds of waste fat, two and one-half pints of water, one cup of lye, one cup of boxax and one cup of ammonia.

Mrs. Fleckenstein completes the process of combining the fat with a kettle of water by letting same come to a boil and skimming off the six pounds of fat. She adds 2½ pints of cold water and drops the contents of the can of lye, which does the boiling. Then she adds the borax and ammonia.

Her reward is 28 bars of laundry soap.

Stayman Leading Apple Production

HARRISBURG, Feb. 21.—Nearly 35 per cent of all Stayman apples produced commercially in the United States in 1946 were grown in Pennsylvania orchards and that variety ranked No. 1 in state production, the State Department of Agriculture announced today.

Federal annual surveys showed a Stayman crop of 2,620,000 bushels out of the total 1946 Pennsylvania commercial apple crop of 9,360,600 bushels.

Staymans are by far the most popular apple produced in Pennsylvania, the department said. In production totals Rome Beauty ranked second in 1946 with 1,220,000 bushels, York Imperial third with 1,10,000 bushels, and Red Delicious and Jonathan tied for fourth place with 750,000 bushels each.

Hocus Pocus Makes It Easier For Them

MINNEAPOLIS.—Getting their teeth yanked or filled has its light side for youthful patients of Dr. S. M. Ries, a Minneapolis dentist.

When a child sits in the dentist's chair with a frightened look at the sight of the array of instruments, Dr. Ries has an answer.

Ries, an amateur magician, always takes the "edge" off a patient by doing a few tricks.

His favorite one is placing a sponge rubber ball between a youngster's clenched fists and then "throwing" another ball though his patient's hands.

The doctor never quite throws the ball through, but at the end of the trick the patient is tightly holding two rubber balls.

Sometimes during a filling Ries stops and performs his magic.

When even that doesn't work, he brings in his parrot, "Slip", to talk to patients.

Ries has seldom met with failure, but just in case, he's going to install an electric train for the kiddies to watch, if they get bored with the grinding.

Aluminum Co. Denies Blast Due To Any Process Of Company

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 21.—(INS)—A spokesman for the Aluminum Company of America headquarters in Pittsburgh today denied that the electro-plating plant explosion in Los Angeles was caused by a chemical used in an ALCOA process licensed to the company.

The ALCOA spokesman flatly declared that "none of the processes on which we have patents and issue licenses use perchloric acid," the chemical which supposedly set off the blast, killing at least 15 and injuring nearly 1,000.

New Inhalant May Curb Nasty Coughs

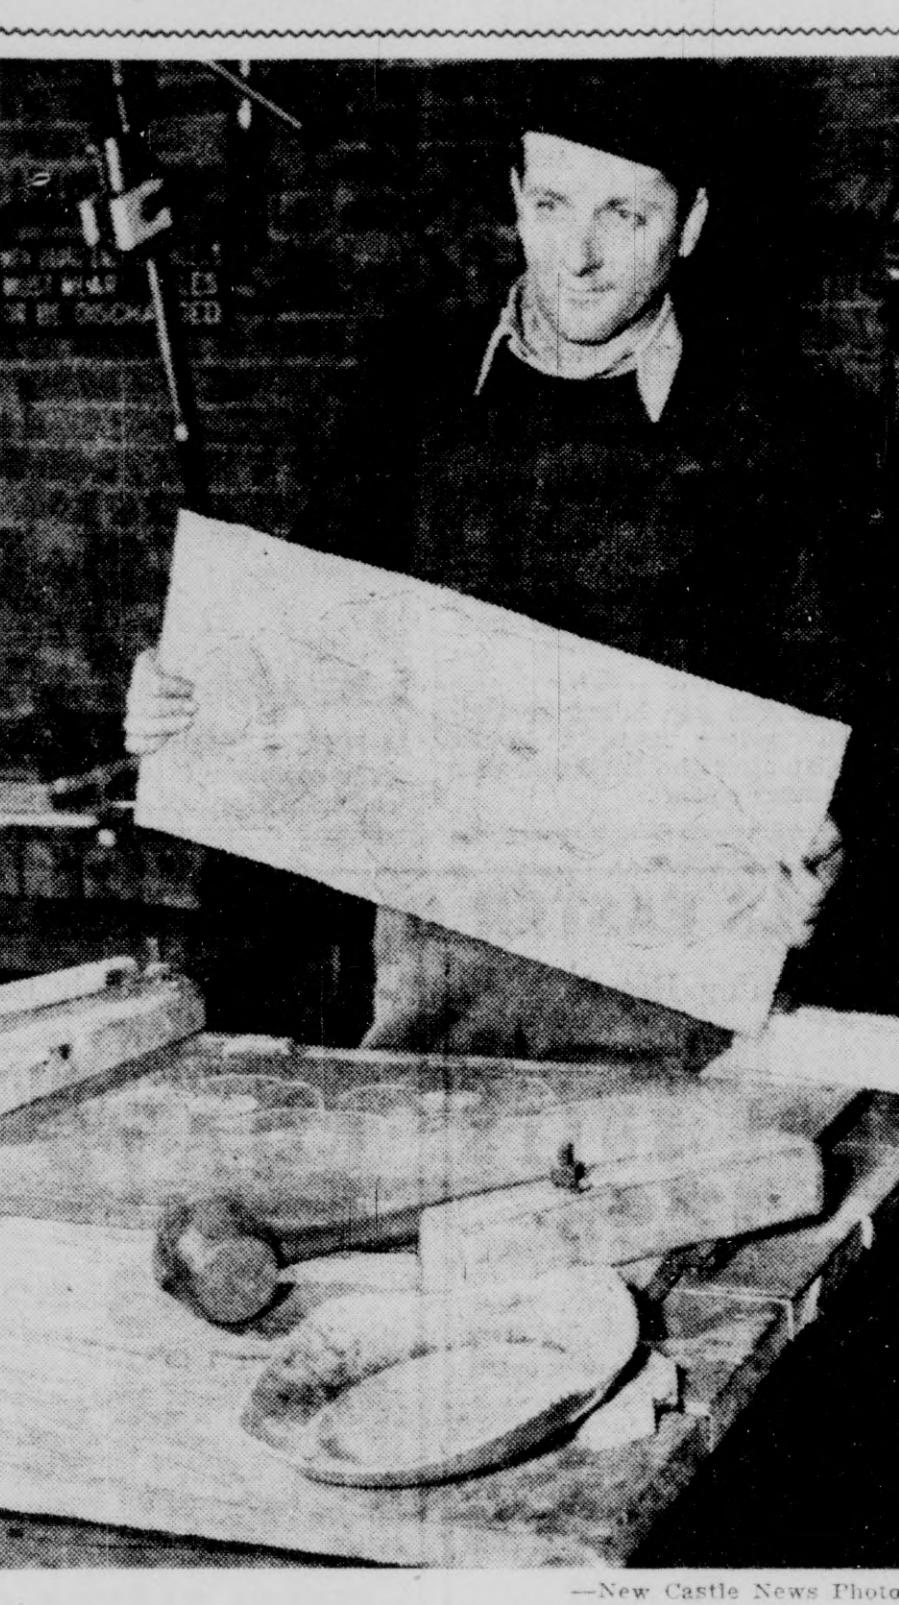

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 21.—(INS)—The eight million daily American sufferers of coughs due to colds may soon be armed with a powerful new combatant.

Dr. Louis Edward Silcox, University of Pennsylvania and Lankenau hospital staff member, announced the new drug, Amino No. 51, would stop 75 per cent of all coughs.

Silcox said the remedy, taken by oral inhalations, is not a narcotic, has no toxic effects. Amino No. 51 has been found highly effective in hundreds of cases treated by Silcox.

The remedy is not a cure for colds, Silcox said, but it is effective in stopping dry coughs due to ear, nose and throat infections.

Farmer Promised Life Of Luxury

In Near Future

PHILADELPHIA—(INS)—A leading forecaster declares that "a life of luxury" is in the near offing for the U. S. farmer that will bring his standards of labor and leisure up to and perhaps beyond city standards.

The widespread adoption of industrial machines and methods on U. S. farms in transforming the average farmer into a business executive in boots—a professional man in overalls," says Charles W. Moore, director of research for SKF Industries, Inc., in a report on farm mechanization.

Will Reap Benefits

The farmer of the immediate future will have the benefit of a score of new developments aimed at eliminating traditional rural drudgery, Moore declares.

The farmer's wife will share in these benefits, too. With machines doing most of her work and modern transportation and communications keeping her in touch with the social world of her choice, she is now well along toward the leisure regarded as normal by the average urban housewife, Moore says.

Set Deadline For Witnesses Hearing In Lilienthal Case

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—(INS)—A leading scientist declared today that delay in David E. Lilienthal's confirmation as atomic energy commission chief regarding vital projects and a move was made immediately to speed Senate action on the controversial appointment.

Dr. Karl T. Compton, president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, said in a letter to Senate President Vandenberg (R) Mich., that he was "disillusioned and disgusted" with the way Lilienthal's nomination is being handled.

Vandenberg read Compton's letter to the Senate atomic energy commission and shortly afterward a deadline was set for next Wednesday on the calling of additional witnesses.

Committee chairman Hickenlooper (R) Iowa, said that in a further move to speed the hearings relevance of testimony will be determined before witnesses are subpoenaed.

Observe Brotherhood Week, Lincoln's And Washington's Birthdays On Thursday

Assembly at Ben Franklin junior high school Thursday afternoon was a combination program in observance of Brotherhood week, Abraham Lincoln's and George Washington's birthdays.

Principal Gerald Nord gave the introductory speech followed by the audience singing the "Battle Hymn of the Republic".

Third number on the program was a round table discussion of Brotherhood week by students of George Washington junior high school. It was conducted by Carl Cramer.

Sequencing the song "America the Beautiful" was a biography of George Washington by Charles Mancine, and a short movie of the nation's capital, Washington, D. C.

Assembly program concluded with the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner". All music was under the direction of Miss Esther Gibbons of the music department.

In a letter received from French West Africa, Miss Cecelia Lewis and Miss Sally P. Botham, missionaries to that continent under the Christian and Missionary Alliance, wrote to say how much they appreciated the receipt of The New Castle News in that land.

The two missionaries stated that one day they were sitting in their mission station house talking when one of them commented that she wished she had a copy of The News to read, giving her some of the events that are occurring in the home town. In just a few hours when they received their shipment of boat mail, a large bundle of the papers arrived quenched their thirst for home town news.

The papers which are mailed weekly to the local mission couple are sent them through the joint efforts of the Cecelia Lewis Bible class of the Alliance of Gospel Tabernacle, 210 Pearson street, and Woodson W. Collins, of The News staff. Miss Lewis and Botham are members of the Pearson street church.

Car Shortage
Is Crippling U. S.
Industries Now

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—(INS)—Sen. Reed (R) Kas., said today that he is confident President Truman will support any program to boost production of critically needed freight cars.

Reed, who conferred with Mr. Truman on Thursday, told the International News Service that both the president and his economic advisor, John Steelman, are concerned over the crippling impact of the car shortage is beginning to have on American economy.

The senator's report of White House recognition of the transportation crisis was pointed up by pleas for more freight carrying equipment.

ment from many sections of the United States and Canada.

Business men in New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania and Virginia reported that they have been forced to either close down operations completely or slow production. Reed's Senate subcommittee has been hearing ten days of similar complaints from railroads and industrial representatives from all parts of the country.

The shortage extends into Canada, where shipments of newspaper destined for United States newspapers have been severely curtailed. Severe snowstorms have aggravated the Canadian situation to the point where it is considered "desperate" by Transport Controller B. S. Library.

According to American Iron and Steel Institute estimates, the automotive industry received a fourth of total sheet and strip steel shipped in the first seven months of 1946.

READY-MADES WILL FIT BETTER AFTER ALTERING

Although many ready-made dresses do not fit properly, women are often satisfied with them because they may be worn, says Miss Alice Brinton, clothing extension specialist of the Pennsylvania State College. Alterations may be done at the store where the dress is bought, with an extra charge, but some makers who sew may do their own altering by giving a little time to planning and doing the sewing.

Some of the points which need to be checked for correct fit are the location of the waistline, placement of the shoulder seam and armseve, fit of the neckline, ease at hipline and evenness of hemline.

The waistline seam should be located at the waistline and should be covered by the belt all the way around. The seam can be ripped and the skirt raised or lowered as needed.

The location of both appearance and comfort. This seam usually comes at the end of the shoulder and drops in a straight line both front and back. Fashion changes may require an extended or even a dropped shoulder line but it still should fit the wearer trimly. The addition of large shoulder pads may correct some of the poor fitting of sagging shoulders. If the sleeve and shoulder line still droop, the sleeve should be removed and set up on the correct line for the individual, using the proper shoulder pad.

A neckline which is too large may be fitted by taking small darts at the back of the neck. If it is much too large, the whole front of the dress may have to be lifted at shoulder.

Dresses which are too big through the hipline do not look well, Miss Brinton reminds. The excess fullness can be taken out at the side seams or other gore seams. A good job of refitting cannot be done without changing the placket.

A straight, even hemline is something which anyone can have but it's often overlooked. The hem should be straightened after all other fitting is completed.

Despite her advanced age of 98, Mrs. Connor is determined to get better and return to her home at Clarion, where she is very active. She resided with her daughter there. Mrs. Grace, Gandy, of Harrisburg, is also a sister of Mr. Connor.

Mr. Connor visited his mother on Wednesday evening, and reports his mother's condition as good.

YOUNGSTOWN, Feb. 21.—The trial of Donald Frohner and Arthur Ned Chapman, youthful slayers of William C. Spieh, Ashtabula salesman, will begin Monday, Feb. 24, at 9 a. m. before three common pleas judges in the Mahoning county courthouse.

Judge David G. Jenkins, now on the county criminal bench, announced that Judges Erskine Maiden, Jr., and Harold B. Doyle will sit with him to try the youths on charges of murder while perpetrating a felony.

The youths admitted killing Spieh Jan. 13 after hitch-hiking in Spieh's car but have pleaded not guilty to the charge.

Judge David Jenkins announced that no minors will be permitted in the courtroom.

FORESEE LIGHTER CARS
LONDON, Feb. 21.—(INS)—British experiments to produce a light alloy as an alternative to sheet metal may make future British automobiles so light in weight that they will have to be fixed with a wider wheelbase to give them greater roadholding qualities.

John Connor, employee of the State Highway department and resident of this city, received word that his mother, Mrs. Mary Connor, aged 98, of Clarion, Pa., fell and broke her hip, Wednesday afternoon and has been admitted to the Oil City hospital, where she is recuperating.

According to American Iron and Steel Institute estimates, the automotive industry received a fourth of total sheet and strip steel shipped in the first seven months of 1946.

Woman Is Taken To County Home

Found In "Shack" In North Beaver Township And Will Be Cared For

OTHER NEWS OF COURT HOUSE

A new guest was added to the roster of the County Home Thursday and County Commissioner Joseph F. Travers cleaned up another of the cases that some folks think couldn't exist in Lawrence county.

The guest is a little old lady, 82 years of age, and would weigh about eighty pounds with heavy shoes on. With her husband, she lived in a "shack" on the State Line road in North Beaver township. The "shack" is 15x18 feet in size, divided into two rooms, only one of which is used in the winter due to the cold. The front room, about 9x15 is the kitchen, living room, bedroom, and dining room combined.

The old lady fell and hurt herself some weeks ago and had been confined to what passes for a bed, at her home.

Mentally she is alert but physically she is in bad shape. When Commissioner Travers heard of the case he investigated it himself, then called an ambulance to bring the old lady in to the county home. At first she demurred. Finally she agreed to go and was lifted on to the ambulance litter and carried to the ambulance.

The pity of it is that somewhere in New Castle there is supposed to be a son, and another one in Lorain, O. If they read this, they can be assured their old mother will be cold and hungry no more.

Resort And Recreation Areas Plan Development Of New Facilities, Is Report

HARRISBURG, Feb. 21—Pennsylvania resort and recreational areas are looking forward to the 1947 vacation season and a number of them are planning the development of new facilities to be carried forward in a long-range program over a period of years, says the State Department of Commerce vacation and recreation bureau.

At Pymatuning lake, in northwestern Pennsylvania, the Pymatuning Lake Association is discussing plans for the development of additional recreational facilities that would be carried out over a period of years with considerable thought being given to the forthcoming season.

Pocono Mountains

In the Pocono mountains, in northeastern Pennsylvania, new activities are being forwarded in anticipation of a big pleasure travel and vacation season. Under the direction of the Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau a handsome, new booklet is being printed for wide distribution. This will tell of the facilities and accommodations to be found in the resort area made up of Pike, Monroe and Wayne counties.

State Park Site

Under the leadership of Renovo enthusiasts plans for the development as a recreational area of the whole Bucktail state park region for the enjoyment of pleasure travelers and vacationists are being discussed. The park extends from Lock Haven to Emporium, following the west branch of the Susquehanna river and Sinnamahoning creek for a distance of approximately 70 miles and from one mountain range to another.

TEACHERS SEEK INCREASE

CORAOPOLIS, Pa., Feb. 21—School teachers of Coraopolis, seeking a "cost-of-living" wage increase, today turned their case over to the public.

The teachers last night turned down a school board offer of $10 per month increase. A resolution passed by the group said:

"We regard the sum of $10 per month for the remainder of the school year, which has been offered by the board, completely inadequate.

"We refuse the offer, and . . .

"We have no alternative but to present our case to the public."

Hospitals Aided By State In Need Of Fund Increase

Biennium Deficit Of $4,000,000
Prompts Request For Allocation Increase

HARRISBURG, Feb. 21.—(INS)—A $4,000,000 deficit among 168 state-aided hospitals during the biennium ending May 31 prompted the Pennsylvania Hospital Association to recommend "substantial" increases in state allocations.

State-aided hospitals "must have more financial aid from the state" if essential care for indigent patients is not to be interrupted, warned Esther J. Tinsley, president.

She pointed out that the legislature had shirked its duty during the 1945 session of appropriating funds for the hospitals up to the limit allowed by an act of assembly.

Miss Tinsley, superintendent of Pittston Hospital, said in a statement:

Exceed Cost By $4,000,000

"The law provides that a hospital be compensated by the state up to a limit of $4 a day for its costs in providing free care to a patient unable to pay. The $4-a-day rate would have called for state payments totaling $5,600,000 during the last fiscal year. Yet the appropriation for these payments was only $4,367,775."

Moreover, the amount which the hospitals were required to spend for these patients, at the average cost last year of $5.80 a day for one person in a ward, was $8,320,000. Thus the cost to the 168 hospitals exceeded the appropriation by nearly $4,000,000.

"On the basis of present estimated costs of $7 per patient per day, the hospitals' expenses would exceed the appropriation by $5,432,225 if there were no increase in the number of free patient days. However, an increase in the number of those days is to be expected."

A breakdown in hospital services was predicted by Miss Tinsley unless sufficient funds were made available to meet increased costs during the 1947-49 biennium.

Rabbi Lieberman, Known Here, Will Recover, Is Word

Friends here of Rabbi George B. Lieberman, of Canton, O., who was traveling aboard the P. R. R. Red Arrow passenger train that was wrecked, will be glad to learn that he will not have to have his legs amputated as was at first thought. Doctors have assured him of his eventual recovery.

For 4½ hours after the crack-up, he hung suspended head downwards by the legs pinioned from an upper berth.

Rabbi and Mrs. Lieberman have visited in New Castle on frequent occasions and have many friends here. He has been a speaker here numerous times.

Heavy Snow Halts President's Walk

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—(INS)—It took Washington's heaviest snowstorm in years to prevent President Truman from enjoying his usual early morning walk today.

The Chief Executive, peering from a snow-shrouded White House at streets buried eight inches deep, with vehicles and pedestrians alike traveling at a snail's pace, decided to call off his constitutional.

Mr. Truman is known as an all-weather walker, but White House attaches admitted that the snow was too deep for the mobile Missourian.

The regular Friday cabinet meeting also was cancelled, but that had nothing to do with the blizzard. Six cabinet members are away from Washington.

WOMAN PLANS TO MARRY VICTIM IN SHOOTING AFFAIR

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 21.—(INS)—The woman involved in the Pittsburgh triangle shooting today contended that she will marry the victim "even if he is crippled for life."

Mrs. Christina Selzer, 35, ex-wife of Raymond Selzer, 33, who shot his friends, Ralph Carpenter, insisted that her former husband shot "an innocent man," and branded his story as a "lie."

Physicians, meanwhile, said Carpenter, shot in the neck, had a good chance to recover, but it may be a week before it can be determined if the victim will be crippled. The bullet chipped his spine and entered the liver.

Threat Of Oil Strike Fading

Some Air Reserve Training Programs Being Abandoned

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—(INS)—The threat of a paralyzing oil strike in the western states was fading today following a last-hour wage agreement.

First to lead an expected parade of union employees back to normal production was the CIO International Oil Workers' local at Richmond, Cal., site of huge refineries.

Its officers announced that the 1,200 members of the Richmond local voted unanimously last night to accept the tentative wage pact in negotiations in the Los Angeles area.

The Richmond local agreed to sign a contract with the Standard Oil Company of California. Other union locals and other companies were expected to fall into line.

The agreement was concluded barely two hours before yesterday's 10 a. m. deadline for the beginning of a strike by some 20,000 employees of seven major oil concerns.

Parties to the agreement, besides the union, were Standard and General Petroleum. Richfield Oil company later associated itself with the terms of the pact. The other companies—Shell, Union, Tidewater-Associated and Texas—were expected to follow suit.

Chief provision in the agreement was a pay increase of 202 cents per hour, or $35 a month. The raise was retroactive to January 1.

Former German Ambassador To Japan Released

TOKYO, Feb. 21.—(INS)—Former German Ambassador Heinrich George Stahmer, sent to Japan in 1940 to negotiate the notorious Axis tri-partite pact, has been released from Tokyo's grim Sugamo prison.

This was announced today by Gen. Douglas MacArthur's occupation headquarters. Stahmer, the announcement disclosed, was let out of the prison last Tuesday, ending 13 months of incarceration under what is technically known as "security arrest."

The ex-ambassador was released, according to the official statement, because "most objectionable Germans were repatriated from Japan last week and there was no longer any reason for holding Stahmer in Sugamo."

The announcement went on to say that Stahmer and his wife "probably will be sent back with other German diplomats and their families on the next ship carrying repatriates to Germany."

However, Stahmer's departure may be delayed if the International tribunal, now trying 26 former Japanese leaders for war crimes, subpoenas him as a witness. The defense already has listed Stahmer as a possible witness but has not yet decided whether to call him to the stand.

Efforts are being made to have the presence of Governor Thomas Herbert, Ohio, a distinguished American Welshman, to take part in the program. Special music will be given by the Cambrian Male Chorus of Cleveland. Henry T. Jones of this city, National Gymnastic chairman also expects to be present.

State Leads Nation In Production Of Ice Cream In 1946

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Washington Correspondent of The News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 21.—Leading all other states in production, Pennsylvania supplied the nation with more than one-tenth of its ice cream in 1946, according to Department of Agriculture reports.

Production in the Keystone State totaled 81,200,000 pounds of ice cream. Nearest competing state was New York with an output of 70,360,000 pounds. United States production aggregated 740,470,000 pounds.

Milk production in 1946 declined 1% per cent in the country as a whole and two per cent in Pennsylvania. Pennsylvania production fell from 5,404,000 pounds in 1945 to 5,319,000 pounds last year.

Milk production in 1946 averaged 5,570 pounds per cow in Pennsylvania as against 4,819 pounds in the nation at large. Thirteen states had better averages than Pennsylvania. California led with a 7,150 pound average per cow.

The number of milk cows on Pennsylvania farms decreased from 965,000 to 955,000 during 1946. All but five states had decreases.

COAL PRODUCTION SLUMP CAUSED BY RECENT COLD WAVE

Defeat Of Bill Is Conceded

Legalized Horse Racing Measure Not Expected To Get Legislative Favor

OTHER NEWS OF STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, Feb. 21.—(INS)—Some legislative proponents of legalized horse racing in Pennsylvania have conceded privately that there was "little chance" of the General Assembly approving such legislation this year. Many advocates, who expressed confidence prior to the convening of the Legislature, now are glum over the prospects of the bill. While some supporters have predicted legislation could win approval in the House of Representatives, they admit there was not much possibility of the Senate sanctioning such a measure. Proposed horse racing legislation has always faced stiff opposition from church groups and rural assemblings.

Some horse racing supporters had claimed that revenues could be used to finance teachers' salary increases, pay boosts for state employees and Commonwealth building projects. Opponents contend, however, that revenues from horse racing and better would not total more than $10,000,000 a year. Advocates still point out that about one-half of the persons who frequent tracks in nearby states were Pennsylvanians and the Commonwealth was losing badly needed revenue.

There have been indications that the administration would support a measure broadening the taxing powers of all municipalities. Bills have been introduced in the House to permit Pittsburgh, Scranton, third class cities and boroughs to levy on items not taxed by the Commonwealth. It was anticipated by some legislators that the administration would back the proposal. Action on such a measure was not expected to be taken until after Gov. James H. Duff submits his budget for the 1947-49 biennium next month.

Pittsburgh may have the title of "smokey city" but Harrisburg is a close contender for the crown. The state capital grounds, located near a railroad and steel plants, has been covered with coal dirt at various times. Sometimes the dirt is so thick on capital walks that it crunches like hard snow when walked upon. At times a combination of smoke and fog hangs over the capital grounds.

Republican legislative leaders have been reported considering the imposition of bill deadlines early next month. It has been reported that a deadline on the introduction of measures would be announced shortly after Duff's budget has been presented.

One Democratic assemblyman has jokingly suggested that the minority legislators throw a dinner for the numerous lobbyists attending the 1947 session "in order to meet them because they are practically ignoring us." Lobbyists have been concentrating their activities on Republican legislators. Several bills have been proposed to provide for the registration of lobbyists.

In a speech on the Senate floor, Dent intimated that the administration would be given its program at the P.M.A. meeting. Former U.S. Sen. Joseph R. Grundy, of Bristol, is chairman of the organization's executive committee. High G.O.P. leaders including Gov. James H. Duff and U.S. Sen. Edward Martin were slated to attend the meeting.

The Pennsylvania Federation of Labor (A.F.L.) has announced that it was conducting an intensive drive to enroll unaffiliated A.F.L. unions in the Commonwealth.

BELIEVES WOMEN MINISTERS WOULD HINDER PROGRESS

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 21.—(INS)—Proposed ordination of women to the ministry would hinder, rather than aid, church progress, according to Rev. Dr. Clarence E. McCartney of the First Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh.

"Such a step would tend toward complete feminization of our churches and more and more increase the alarming tendency to throw the whole burden and responsibility of church work upon women."

Schedule Meeting To Discuss Milk Delivery In State

HARRISBURG, Feb. 21.—(INS)—The Milk Control commission has scheduled a meeting of Pennsylvania dairymen at Harrisburg February 27 to discuss scrapping war time regulations restricting milk deliveries.

"Some dealers want to continue doorstep deliveries to four times a week because there is still a shortage of trucks, bottles and cases," explained Commissioner John J. Snyder. "Others want to go back to daily trips."

Restricted deliveries were ordered during the war by the Office of Defense Transportation and continued by the state after the war.

Naval Shipyard Work To Increase

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 21.—(INS)

An increase in the Philadelphia naval shipyard workload was indicated today as the shipyard's work prospects for the next five months were outlined by Captain H. N. Wallin, shipyard commander. Thirteen ships, including three aircraft carriers, two cruisers, four destroyers, one transport, two submarines and one amphibious force flagship, have been allocated to the Philadelphia shipyard and granted availability for the Lenten season.

Among the ships assigned the yard for repair, overhaul, fitting-out or conversion are the carriers Wright, Valley Forge and Saipan, the cruisers Toledo and Portsmouth, the submarines Atule and Cochino, the transport General Mitchell, the destroyers Corry, New, Holder and Rich and the amphibious force flagship Adirondack.

CENTENARIAN IS OLDEST BACHELOR IN THE COUNTRY

PHILADELPHIA, (INS)—There aren't many men who can boast of having eluded the wiles of the fairies as long as William Clark, a bachelor who is 102 years of age.

Clark, a retired seaman, who has seen such greats as Lincoln, Sherman, and Grant, is remarkably young for his age. He still chews with his own teeth, has liberal amounts of his own hair, and likes to take long strolls.

He claims he voted for Lincoln's re-election, and recalls seeing the president give a speech in Boston. Clark said his recollection of "Hon. Abe" is: "big feet and long legs".

The centenarian declares that there is nothing uncanny about his age—it runs in the family. His father lived to be 103, his mother 105, and his grandmother 108.

The spry old gentleman has no sympathy for men who are 70 and complain about old age.

He says, "I feel like telling them to go jump in the lake."

Ban Entertaining At White House Until After Easter

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—(INS)

White House sources revealed that Mrs. Truman has banned entertaining at the executive mansion during the Lenten season.

It was explained that sometimes in the past luncheons have been held at the White House during Lent, although formal entertaining was suspended.

Mrs. Truman, however, is said to believe that even luncheon and teas should not be given until after Easter.

It was also disclosed that Margaret Truman, who came to the capital to celebrate her birthday, expects to return to New York on Friday to resume her music study.

NEW LIGHTING SYSTEM

EN ROUTE FROM NEVER-NEVER LAND TO SALT LAKE CITY

FEb. 21.—Only a person who has driven in the badlands of Los Angeles traffic can realize how difficult it is to be rolling along on a train to see a movie.

A train can run off the track, but there is very little likelihood of another train tearing out a dark alley without lights, ripping off a cowcatcher and disappearing at top speed down the nearest side street. Besides that, a Union Pacific engineer would be admonished in no uncertain terms if he leaned leisurely from his cab and growled, "Where do you think you're going, big boy?" That's why the railroad probably prefers its engineers to live in Salt Lake City or Omaha. They won't pick up bad habits.

You have only to read the daily casualty lists to realize how Hollywood reporters, dependent upon automobiles, jeopardize life and limb to bring you news that Jane Russell has a 39-inch-bust, Ginger Rodgers likes Spanish food, Humphrey Bogart has a birthday every Christmas, or that Dolores Delacruz has puffed with Delancey Schmoobie and is now thicker than a Southern California fog with you-who-know-who.

When you drive out to talk to Lana Turner, you exercise extreme caution. Otherwise you'll end up talking to yourself at the Georgia Street receiving hospital.

That's why it's pleasant to be on a train, rolling pleasantly along for tonight's world premier of Enterprise's "Hamrod" in Salt Lake City. You can enjoy every minute of it without worrying how much it's going to cost for new fenders and a paint job—or a set of splints.

Of course, sometimes at the end of one of these hazardous drives you get an eyeful. For example, Maria Montez, a very delectable dish—as you know—has just started a new picture "Atlantis", for Seymour Nebenzahl and she assures your reporter her wardrobe is something out of this world.

Your reporter saw only one gown and will take Maria's word about the others.

The gown was mostly full length black tights, with some folderol around the waist line. She also was wearing a dark jacket.

"Do you like it?" asked Maria.

Your reporter agreed it was beautiful on Maria but might not enhance another less curvaceous figure.

Plan Rapid Expansion Of Army Intelligence In Case Of Emergency

By FRANCES MUSIC

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—War department action to permit rapid expansion of army intelligence activities in event of emergency came to light today.

Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, by direction of Secretary of War Patterson, disclosed that the ranks of reserve personnel are being combined for individuals qualified to the newly set-up army security reserve.

The army chief of staff pointed out in an official document that the army security section is established to insure the rapid expansion of signal intelligence and communication security activities in the event of any emergency.

Eisenhower said that with near completion of general demobilization most of the personnel with specialties of primary interest to the army security agency are members of other reserve sections.

He directed that these officers and enlisted men be encouraged to apply for transfer to the army security reserve where their experience "will be utilized to the best interest of the service."

Combat Fifth Column

This action followed a warning by the war department that in event of sudden war the army would be too weak to prevent even elementary sabotage at critical points in the nation's industrial, transportation and communications systems.

The department stated that "a major concern in both defensive and offensive planning must be adequate provision for combating fifth-column activity."

Eisenhower said that personnel at least one year in signal intelligence or communication security activities will be considered for transfer to the army security reserve.

Eligible persons, who are not already members of the organized reserve corps, may be appointed or enlisted in the security branch under the regulations applicable to entrances in other sections.

Major commands are authorized to take final action applications from enlisted personnel to the security reserve.

Applications from officers are to be forwarded to the adjutant general in Washington along with the recommendations of the major command concerned.

Seek To Prevent Losses In Assets In Bank Mergers

HARRISBURG, Feb. 21.—(INS)—State Banking Secretary D. Emmett Brumbaugh today sought legislation to prevent losses of Pennsylvania's assets through the merger of banks with national institutions.

He announced the total resources of the state's 367 banks and trust companies declined $913,525,490 last year largely due to the merger of the Union Trust Co., Pittsburgh, with the Mellon National Bank and the Peoples Pittsburgh Trust Co., the First National Bank of Pittsburgh.

Under present laws, it was explained, the state permits the merger of a bank with a federal institution to form a federal firm, but the federal government does not permit national banks to consolidate with other outfits to form state institutions.

The department stated that "a major concern in both defensive and offensive planning must be adequate provision for combating fifth-column activity."

The department's annual report on conditions as of December 31, 1946, revealed today assets of banks and trust companies amounted to $4,815,732,720 compared with $5,729,258,213 December 31, 1945.

Total deposits were $4,348,971,643 last year compared with $5,153,935,417 during 1945, it disclosed. There were 11,879 fewer depositors, it added.

Talmadge Signs White Primary Bill Thursday

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 21.—(INS)—Georgia's controversial White Primary bill was signed Thursday by Gov. Herman Talmadge.

It was the first major piece of legislation to become law during this term of the General Assembly and was the major bill supported by the Talmadge forces.

Talmadge, whose position as governor is still in doubt, issued a statement lauding the bill as "a mandate of the people" and denying that it will disfranchise the Negro voter.

Tons Of U. S. WheatWASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—(INS)—
Italian Ambassador Alberto Taractually 300,000 tons but the Italian government recognizes the drain being imposed on the U. S. crop from many sources.The ambassador also said Italy needed a considerable amount of coal. He did not specify to reporters any specific amount.He expressed confidence, follow-that Italy's bid for the purchase of

Family Heirlooms Are Discussed By Babson

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright 1947, Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)

BABSON PARK, Fla., Feb. 21.—I am not now recommending even the rarest diamonds, pearls, rugs, antiques or glassware as investments. It is very seldom that the executor of an estate can get for these heirlooms as much as the party paid—usually about one half. On the other hand, the purchaser has had the joy of wearing or using these heirlooms—and this may well offset the shrinkage in market value.

Heirlooms As Currency

Notwithstanding the above, it is probably wise for most families gradually to accumulate some good real assets that always have a market value at some price everywhere. These can be taken along if the owner is obliged to leave in a hurry. Our first savings should be to accumulate a home and garden, to purchase life insurance and to educate a family of children. But later, when buying stocks, bonds and other things, it may be well to put 10 per cent in a perfect diamond, a rare rug or antique furniture.

When Hitler overran France, Belgium, Holland and other lands, the possession of land or of government bonds did not help the refugees to get away. A family may have land and factories worth millions of dollars, but these could not be moved. It was their diamonds, gold and other jewels which saved the refugees. These they could take with them and it was these things which brought them safely to some other country.

What To Buy

The most marketwise of all family heirlooms are good diamonds of from one to two carats, combined with a fair amount of gold or platinum. The best of these retail at from $1250 upward per carat. Rare rugs and beautiful antiques also have a ready market and are used usually appreciated when inherited by children and grandchildren. Certainly, every family should possess some of these real things along with stocks, bonds and bank accounts.

Even before World War days, oriental pearls were the most beautiful and most eagerly sought for of all pearls. Until recently a string of good pearls would sell for from $25,000 to $50,000, while one pearl might easily sell for $100. When the Japanese began to develop cultured pearls the market for oriental pearls began rapidly to slide. Actually, a cultured pearl is a real pearl obtained by putting a grain of sand and an oyster and watching the oyster for a few years until a pearl has been developed and then using it for a jewel. Very few people can today detect a string of cultured pearls, which sells at $200, from a string of oriental pearls which once sold for $25,000.

When To Buy Jewels

The price of jewels, rare rugs and fine furniture goes up and down like the price of land, commodities and stocks. This means that they all can be purchased for very much less during a depression. Hence, do not depend too much on these things today but wait for lower prices. Yet, if one will put a little money into these each year the price should average up in the long run. Besides, the purchaser then gets a pleasure from their longer use.

Just one more word about pearls. There is no reason for any sensible person to spend good money today for so-called "real oriental pearls" even though they can be bought for 20 per cent of what they sold for before the first cultured pearl was grown. Too many women classify "cultured pearls" with "artificial pearls". Hence, there is not the market for cultured pearls which there should be. Furthermore, there is so much labor involved in the raising, grading and polishing of cultured pearls that they could sell considerably higher, especially if this country should eliminate its excise tax and put a tariff on imported pearls. However, do not make any rash or foolish purchases because of this column. I, however, would like to help readers to someday have something real which they can pass on to their children and grandchildren.

Other Measures Before Council At Session Held At City Hall Thursday

Streets Improvement Director James Gibson on Thursday submitted a bill to council which provides for the construction of a sanitary sewer in Garfield avenue between Highland avenue and Albert street with costs assessed according to benefits. The bill was sent to committee.

RETURN PETITION

Council today ordered the return to petitioners a petition for ordaining grading and paving of Wabash avenue between the west line of Liberty street, west to the east line of Second street. The petition was insufficiently signed. They wanted to have the improvement put through on a cash basis.

MANY LEAVE CITY

When George Patterson, city assessor, presented a list of 76 persons today for a revision of their status, a study showed that 46 of them have been listed as "non-residents". They have gone to other places to live, according to the assessor's report.

Commodity Credit Hearing Monday

Senate Agricultural Committee Will Hear Views On Continuing Of CCC

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—(INS)—Sen. Aiken (R) Vt., chairman of the senate agriculture committee, said Thursday that hearings on the continuation of the Commodity Credit Corporation would open on Monday.

Invited to appear as witnesses are Secretary of Agriculture Anderson and Jesse B. Gilmer, president of the CCC.

Hearing will be on a bill proposed by Sens. Bushfield (R) S. D. and Young (R) N. D., which would extend the life of the corporation two years. Under present law the CCC would pass from existence June 30.

The government is committed to support parity farm prices for two years after the cessation of hostilities, as proclaimed by President Truman last December. The Commodity Credit Corporation is the agency through which parity prices are paid.

Aiken said he had little doubt about the bill's success in committee. He added that no witnesses had asked to appear against it, but he did not know what opposition might develop on the senate floor.

ISSUE PERMIT

City Bureau of Building issued to Thomas J. McFate a permit to enclose a porch at 439 Park avenue today at an estimated cost of $1,000.

A Biblical mite was worth less than a quarter of a cent; a silver talent was worth $538.30; a gold talent, $13,809. A silver shekel was worth about 50 cents.

Westminster Primed For Battle With Pitt Saturday At Farrell

Titans Anxious To Keep String Of Wins Intact

Players Seek Victory For "Pappy" Washbaugh Over Carlson, Strive For 19th Win

ALLAN McCULLOUGH HAS ADDED PUNCH

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Feb. 21.—"Let's win this one for Pappy!"

That is the determination of members of the Westminster college cage team as they prep for Saturday night's game with Pitt at the Farrell High court.

Coach Grover Washbaugh has not said a word to the boys but they know that his most cherished wins are those achieved over Coach Carlson and his Pittites. Since coming to Westminster, Washbaugh coached teams have won 11 and lost only three against the Blue and Gold.

Have Great Record

With Slippery Rock's scalp hanging to their belts by a close count of 53-49, the Titans are in the home stretch with only five games remaining. The record now shows 18 wins against two losses to give the Titans one of the best records in the nation.

Brightening the Titan picture is the fine play of Allan McCullough, Bradford freshman. Injected into the lineup in the third quarter of the Slippery Rock game, the big fellow made his presence felt from the very start. He is new this semester and he gives Washbaugh much needed reserve material as he is big and fast enough to be used at any position.

There are indications that the Pitt game will be a sell-out. Doors will open at 6:30 and the Jayvee teams of the two schools will clash at 7 with the main contest at 8:30.

Gaston Post Is Winner In First Game Of Series

Defeat New Wilmington Post In Hard-Fought Contest In County Playoffs

PLAY SECOND HERE TONIGHT

Basketball fans who like torrid basketball will see plenty of action tonight at George Washington Junior High when the Perry S. Gaston Post team meets New Wilmington in the second game of the playoffs for the county American Legion League title. The locals won the opening game in a thrilling contest at New Wilmington last night by the score of 49-43.

Tom Carey, who scored 14 points for the local team, will not be on hand for tonight's game, which will really make a difference, as he was a tower of strength in last night's game, he and Joe Cooper, the other forward, accounting for 28 points between them.

Locals Lead At Half

New Castle started out by slapping in three field goals in rapid succession in the first quarter, but after calling a time out to get settled, New Wilmington came back to forge into a 17-12 lead at the quarter, and from then on, the locals were never headed, having a 25-17 advantage at the half, and a 35-30 lead at the end of the third quarter. New Wilmington sputtered in the final quarter, and at one time New Castle was only leading by one point, 41-40.

His fate deeply concerned his wife and parents until he wired them Tuesday afternoon from New York. The Dodgers went to Miami, Florida, by train and took a plane to Havana the night of the game.

Durocher On Hand

On hand to greet the Dodgers when they reached the Cuban capital was Leo (The Lip) Durocher, recently arrived in the East from California to face the movie actress Lorraine Day the movie actress Durocher was forced to leave his wife to face the California divorce tangle alone, as he was slated to start giving the Dodgers the once over. The Dodgers are slated for a South American jaunt for exhibition games.

Minner joined the Brooklyn team on recall near the end of the 1946 season and saw some service on the mound, enough to warrant his retention this year by Branch Rickey and Durocher. His many friends in this section are pulling for "Lefty" to make the grade this season. He is a southpaw and stands well over the 6 foot 4 inch mark.

In New Wilmington High Minner was a sensation on the basketball court.

Berskovich To Oppose Mandell

Mike Berskovich of Niles and Jim Mandell of Buffalo, will box in Youngstown, Tuesday night. It is a re-match, Berskovich having lost the initial bout. The bout, originally was scheduled for a week ago but was postponed when Mandell was injured in training.

Illinois May Ban Rocky, Ray

CHICAGO, Feb. 21.—(INS)—Action to bar Rocky Graziano, middleweight contender, and Ray (Sugar) Robinson, welterweight champion, from Illinois boxing rings was underway today.

It was sponsored by three Republican members of the State Senate, following both fighters' suspension in New York.

Sen. Peter Miller, spokesman for the trio, which includes Sens. Arthur Larson and William Walsh, said a resolution has been drawn up calling for an investigation of both of the New York boxers.

Miller said copies were sent to Gov. Dwight Green; Edward Alexander, Senate secretary; and Boxing Commission Chairman Sheldon Clark.

Pasquel Still Seeking Talent

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 21.—(INS)—Mexican Baseball League Magnate Jorge Pasquel was to fly to Cuba today, where he reportedly will settle contract details with several players expected to play in the Mexican loop next Spring.

Pasquel was unusually silent on his plans for this season. Some quarters asserted the plans include raids of "commando proportions" on the American big league diamond talent.

He will be accompanied on his trip by Lt. Col. Octavio Rueda Magro, league secretary.

Red Hurricane At Farrell Hi Court Tonight

"Whiz Kids" Engage Third

Place "Steelers" As Loop Season Nears Conclusion

Coach Bill Douglass' New Castle cagers will hit the road for the last time this season tonight when they cross into Mercer county to battle Farrell high's third-place "Steelers".

The Marlin-coached team virtually threw in the towel last Tuesday night when they lost at Aliquippa, but still have a mathematical chance of finishing in a tie for the Section III crown and will try to repeat the "Whiz Kids" to level their sights on the big game with Sharon next Tuesday.

Lineup Unchanged

Douglass sees no reason to revamp his lineup for tonight's tussle, since the starting five of Spears, Black, Red, Watters and Ciatella played superb ball in their last outing against Sharon's pace-makers, losing by a field goal in the final seconds.

A New Castle upset tonight would crush any Farrell titular hopes, and give the locals their fourth win of the season against seven losses. The Hurricane will ring down the season curtain next Tuesday with Ellwood City showing here.

The squad will depart from the Y.M.C.A. building at 5:45 p.m., it was announced by faculty manager, Robert Mills.

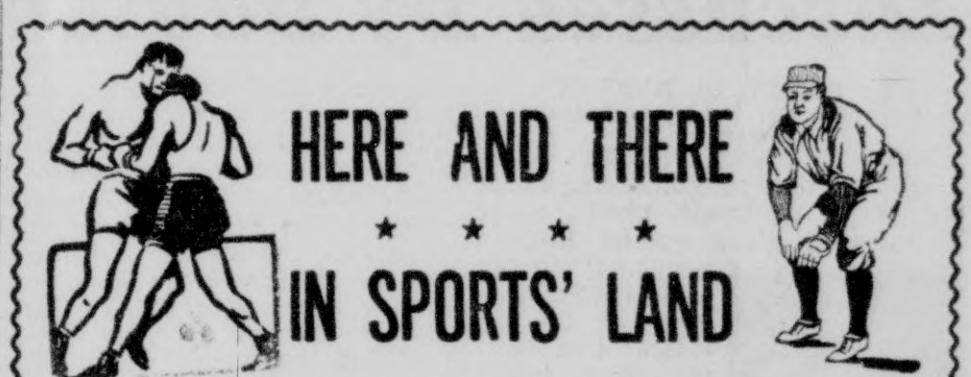

Rocky Graziano May Fight In Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Feb. 21.—Matchmaker Larry Atkins of Cleveland was "just about certain" today that Rocky Graziano, hard-hitting middleweight recently barred for life by the New York Boxing Commission, would fight in Cleveland soon.

Atkins revealed that he had talked to Graziano representatives in New York yesterday and that he received encouraging response. He said he hoped to find the "right opponent" for Graziano out of his Monday card at the Arena, when Chuck Hunter, Cleveland middleweight, meets Jerry Florelio of New York.

Russler's Five To Play JB Regulars

Bud Russler's Harmony Five will oppose the Johnson Bronze Regulars at 7 p.m. Saturday in George Washington Junior high school. The rivalry between the two quintets has spread, and it is expected the place will be crowded by JB employees and basketball fans outside the plant. Tonight the Penn Generals meet the JB Regulars at Ben Franklin court.

A YEAR AGO there were so many ball players in the major league camps that, veteran players were worrying about winning back their regular jobs. Today, as the major league clubs go to camp, the managers are doing the worrying. They're wondering where they're going to find the ball players they need for key spots. The Yankees, always with so much talent on hand that a rookie seldom has a chance to break in, need a first baseman. In fact, they need one so badly that Larry MacPhail, the major-domo of the club, is reported to have said he would offer $150,000 for Mickie Vernon, the Washington pivot man who led the American league in batting last year. They need one so badly they're going to give old George Quinn, a trial. The Tigers, with Hank Greenberg, need a first baseman. Roy Cullenbine, who has been around for 10 years, and has been hot and cold, is slated for the job. But Manager Steve O'Neill will try out a few others. The Indians, fire-crackered by Bill Veeck, need outfielders. They want Stanley Spence, Giants, tail-enders in 1946, are looking for a good outfielder and pitchers. The Indians, tail-enders in 1946, want the Indians hasn't clicked. The White Sox need help, too, especially a power hitter. On the other hand the Red Sox and the Cardinals face the season with formidable lineups.

Judging from the statement of Art Williams, new heavyweight GG champ' of Pittsburgh, Bob Blendinger who lost to Art, is tougher than hickory. He doesn't know yet what made Bob stand up under his punches. At any rate, Bob is coming to fight Cosmo Santillo of Youngstown in the feature bout at the Arena, Monday night, and it will be then fans will find out what makes 'em both tick. While the Vic Kondick vs. Carl House (GG champion lightweight) semi-final will draw a lot of attention, the Van Royle, Youngstown, Ron Delaney scrap will carry an appeal. Both are lightweight GG champs, the former of Akron, while the Jim Gillespie vs. Frankie Wooten fight

NBA Disregards Action Against Rocky-Robinson

Members of NBA In 40 States Vote To Accept Fighters Set Down In New York

PATERSON, N. J., Feb. 21.—(INS)—The National Boxing Association announced today that it would not concur with the New York State Commission in disciplinary action taken against Rocky Graziano and Ray Robinson. The NBA termed the action "unbalanced justice—and political witch-hunting".

President Abe Greene advised the more than 40 states which make up the NBA that members are free to proceed with the two fighters as they see fit.

Disregard Findings

This action was recommended by the member states. Greene pointed out that the NBA does not initiate disciplinary action but accepts the recommendations of its members—in this case to disregard revocation of Graziano's license, and suspension for 30 days and a fine against Robinson.

In a statement, Greene said that the situation against the two fighters "smacks of unbalanced justice, if not political witch-hunting". He called the difference in the punishment for similarly alleged offenses "inexplicably inconsistent conclusions".

The athletic director has declined to divulge any details on applicants.

Northwestern also must find a replacement for Wesley Fly, backfield coach, who has resigned effective next August 31.

Auditor General G. Harold Wagner reported the payment of $18,634 in bounties to 1,722 sportsmen including $494 to Ewart for 123 foxes and two weasels he shot or trapped during a 35-day period last year.

Hugh Carl, of Sabinville, received $260 in bounties and Hugh Dickinson, Tunkhannock, was awarded $228, Wagner said.

Beau Jack To Box Tony Janiro

NEW YORK Feb. 21.—(INS)—Beau Jack the one-time Georgia shoe shine boy was established a 9 to 5 favorite today to beat Tony Janiro of Youngstown, O., tonight and advance close to a welterweight title challenge.

The bout will be in the nature of a comeback start for Beau, who has not fought since last October. A knee injury in training for a bout after he had lost to Buster Taylor in Jersey put him on the shelf until now.

Deshon Hospital Nurses Know Much Of Combat Areas

BUTLER, Pa., Feb. 21.—(INS)—The nurses, as well as the patients, around Deshon General hospital near Butler know a thing or two about combat areas.

Their service ribbons can match those of most of their patients.

For of the 165 nurses at Deshon, all are combat veterans.

Mrs. Jean F. Richards, chief nurse, says that many of them today are treating casualties in Deshon they treated close to the battlefields in World War II. Many of them worked with each other during some phase of their war experiences.

There are five who served together in one hospital unit on Okinawa, for example, and four others who shared experiences at another hospital on the same island. About 10 per cent were Navy nurses, who also were "up there".

Most of them are western Pennsylvanians who were assigned to Deshon to be closer to their homes.

Fort Ligonier To Be Restored

LIGONIER, Pa., Feb. 21.—(INS)—Old Ft. Ligonier, focal point of many battles of the American revolution and the French and Indian wars, is to be restored on its original site as a memorial.

Architects for the recently-organized Ft. Ligonier foundation already are at work on plans for the memorial.

The historic old fort was built in 1758. During the revolution it was the main defense of the route between Ft. Bedford and Ft. Pitt. It withstood sieges of the Indians in Pontiac's wars, and historians give the fort an important place in the eventual fall of Ft. Duquesne.

ISSUE NEW COINS
LONDON—(INS)—The first of Britain's new cupro-nickel coins to replace silver have been issued by the Bank of England. All are dated 1947 and except for a slightly glossier surface their appearance, size design and weight are exactly the same as those of the old silver coins.
